

Become a Samsung Accredited LED Partner

Start your Samsung LED journey with PSCo

Want to manage all aspects of Samsung LED installation and after-sales support requirements for your customer? No problem. You can become an accredited LED partner by completing Samsung's LED accreditation program through PSCo at Innovation House, delivered by the Mi Support team.

Samsung have partnered with PSCo to deliver the most advanced LED training program available. And with sales of LED videowalls now overtaking LCD for the first time – there has never been a better time to get trained up and be recognised as an accredited Samsung LED partner.

Empowering the channel

Samsung's training course has been designed for installers and system integrators looking to plan, install, commission and support Samsung LED for their customers. Learn about every step of the process to ensure that your LED deployments will be problem free.

Completing the Samsung LED Accreditation programme puts you in control of your project and any contracted deliverables that you have with your customer.

Course details

Duration:

2 days classroom and hands-on practical training
1-day practical assessment

What the course will give you

- Become an authorised installer and service partner for Samsung LED
- Achieve certification status for 2 years
- Get access to media assets for your marketing (e.g. accreditation logos)
- Ensure your warranty gets signed off
- Qualification assigned to the individual, not their employer

Take control

As an authorised installer, you will be able to carry out and be responsible for:

- Site survey and site readiness
- Product unboxing and handling
- Mounting the frame kit and ensuring alignment
- Power and data wiring of the cabinets
- Seam adjustment
- Commissioning and calibrating
- Signing off the completed install
- Ongoing site maintenance and service

SAMSUNG

PSCo

Innovation House

Samsung Training at Innovation House

Innovation House is a state-of-the-art experience, event and training centre in Bracknell, UK. With purpose-built training facilities including training classrooms and a flexible R&D area, perfect for hands-on installation training and assessments, Innovation House is the perfect place to get accredited.

What's more, see Samsung LED in action in the experience centre featuring three Samsung LED walls including The Wall for Business, Samsung's flagship MicroLED display.

Why PSCo?

As the UK's leading LED specialist for the trade, PSCo is the only accredited partner to offer Samsung LED training in the UK, supported by a team of LED specialists, in-house trainer (Mi Support), dedicated training facilities and a long track record of Samsung LED installs.

How to sign-up

Download sign-up instructions from the PSCo website

Register to become a partner via the Samsung Business Academy Portal

Book training date at Innovation House

REGISTER TODAY

Ed Martin
Training – Samsung LED 01344 959444
ed.martin@midwich.com

PSCo
Innovation House
Segro Park
Ellesfield Avenue
Bracknell
RG12 8HH

PSCo
SAMSUNG